ABOUT US

Learning today...leading tomorrow.

- Over the last 14 years Amity University has been keenly focusing on its motto and thus today it stands among the top listed private universities of North India. Soaring number of alumni with placements in reputed institutions all around the globe is the proof that Amity provides its students with greater opportunities and, as a part of Amity family we at AUR, Jaipur find ourselves committed to the same.
- Amity School Architectural and Planning (ASAP), although young among its competitors, has well qualified and reputed faculties who strive towards giving new concepts and the unique perspective to the students so that as future architects they can design their future and that of the society.
- At ASAP, while academic excellence is meant to be uncompromising, we believe that significance of literary, cultural as well as sports skill is indelible to an integrated experience of an architecture school. Aspiring to stride towards holistic development, we feel proud to present the 5th edition of our fest ARCH-O-LUNIO' 2017.

VISION

ARCH-O-LUNIO fest started with a vision to explore the hidden talents of the budding architects and to provide them with a platform to display their works. It is organized to celebrate “World Architecture Day” which is observed every year on first Monday of Oct.

OBJECTIVE

The fest is all about Architecture and architecture is not only constructing buildings. Architecture is about giving shape to the imagination of an individual with practical application of his/her concepts which is achieved by following some set of design principles. It provides a wider exposure to the students and gives them a chance of interacting with experts and professionals from different fields of specialization. So, we aim to show how ample is the scope of architecture and how an architect can contribute to bring change to the society. Overall, it is a stage of evolution of an architecture student.
